08 February 2017 | James Pearce

European mobile provider Transatel has added 23 Caribbean islands to its roaming footprint as part of a deal with Digicel.

Customers using the France-based MVNO's DataSIM will be able to access services across the islands in the French and Dutch West Indies under the agreement.

The partnership means Transatel's services are now available in more than 100 countries across Europe, Asia, Oceania, the
